From: Germany, Rheinhessen,

Color: White

Type: Table

Sweetness: Dry

Variety: Riesling

The 2022 Appenheimer Hundertgulden Riesling is from a limestone site on the slopes of the Westerberg, which Jürgen Hofmann says harbors "enormous potential." According to the website, "The core site is purely south-facing and has one of the highest carbon contents in Germany. ... This results in wines with a high pH value, which enables a pronounced minerality with good digestibility." Intensely white-golden in color, the 2022 Appenheimer Hundertgulden Riesling is very clear, pure and fresh on the dense and clearly limestone-driven, lemony and chalky, remarkably elegant and substantial nose that also reveals earthy tones and no hints of drought stress. Full-bodied, mouth-filling, round and generous but also fine and mineral on the palate, with salivating fine acidity, this is a complex, tight yet lemon-fresh and lemon-bitter Hundertgulden Riesling that is seriously sustainable on the complex and saline finish. 12.5% stated alcohol. Natural cork. Tasted in July 2024.

Sweetness: Dry

Variety: Chardonnay

The 2022 Chardonnay Reserve opens with a dense and elegant bouquet that also shows the stylish, flinty reduction, without which hardly any ambitious Chardonnay (or rather Chardonnay winemaker) dares to bottle today. The wine is full-bodied, rich and quite creamy on the palate, with fine acidity, persistent salinity and mineral grip yet also a slightly drying finish due to the apparently generous use of sulfur dioxide, which masks the origin, especially when compared to the singing Weisser Burgunder Reserve. The Chardonnay is from the Steingrube in St. Johann, though, which Jürgen Hofmann considers as one of his best vineyards. "The conditions here are perfect for this Chardonnay, which offers minerality as well as plenty of strength and creaminess."

Variety: Riesling

The 2022 Gau-Algesheimer Goldberg Riesling opens with intense, ripe and concentrated yellow fruit intertwined with floral and spicy/mineral notes as backup on the deep and layered nose. Elegant and fresh on the first palate, this Riesling reveals an intense texture and saline acidity that carries the wine all the way to the finish, revealing lemony, fresh fruit and fine tannins. This is a full-bodied and substantial Goldberg Riesling with astringency that is neither bitter nor drying, just savory. 12.5% stated alcohol. Natural cork. Tasted in July 2024.

Pure yet intense and with a stony character intermingled with the fine, ripe and elegant fruit, Jürgen Hofmann's 2022 Gau-Algesheimer Rothenberg Riesling indicates a fully mineral and terroir-driven character. Juicy, fine and complex on the palate, with ripe and first of all elegant fruit and fine, buoyant and saline acidity, this is an intense and complex, persistently saline and structured Riesling of class and style. It has a very long, salivating finish. 12.5% stated alcohol. Natural cork. Tasted in July 2024.

Hofmann's limestone-driven 2022 Weisser Burgunder Reserve from the south-facing Appenheimer Eselspfad (limestone in the subsoil and a clay-loess layer on top) exhibits an intense yellow color and opens with an intense yet pure, fresh and elegant, finely saline and yeasty bouquet of ripe fruits with a dash of fresh lemon juice and spicy nuances. Full-bodied and rich on the palate, this is an elegant and mouth-filling, juicy Pinot Blanc from old vines and organic viticulture. The 2022 shows enormous inner substance and grip as well as a remarkably long and intense, multilayered finish. The wine is beautifully balanced, very saline and provided with fine tannins and lemon fruit bitters on the powerful and persistent finish as well as the long-lasting aftertaste. This is an impressive wine from Rheinhessen and doubtlessly on grand cru level. 13% stated alcohol. Natural cork. Tasted in July 2024.

Still a little bit reductive on the clear and dense yet discreetly aromatic but savory nose, the 2023 Riesling Trocken already indicates some terroir character. Round and surely not bone dry but juicy, with mineral grip and stimulating salinity, this is a medium-bodied and mouth-filling, well-balanced and elegant Riesling with character and good, already remarkably complex and salivating length. 12.5% stated alcohol. Screw-cap closure. Tasted in July 2024.
